Introducing Kayt Village

Blur the lines of furniture & architecture

Kayt Village is solid yet striking. The angular forms add definition and structure to a room, allowing for easy implementation and flexible space reconfiguration into space planning without interfering with the building's structure.

Kayt Nook and Kayt Hutch are space efficient solutions that can 'activate' small spaces or otherwise unutilised transitional spaces. Creating both semi enclosed areas in open workspaces, Kayt Village enables balanced and active working environments.

Spaces for diversity, empowering people

Kayt Village falls into three categories: Cabana creates areas for communication, Nook provides places to retreat for concentrated work and Hutch can be configured for both meeting and individual working settings.

Every worker has a different preference for when and how to concentrate. Kayt Nook and Kayt Hutch help creative workers focus to generate innovative ideas.

Acoustic cocoon, enhanced connectivity

Proving a place for easy communication or retreat and relaxation, Kayt Village's room within a room enables privacy. Responding to the necessity for noise reduction in open plan spaces, Kayt Village helps to absorb disruptive sounds in the surrounding environment.

Without sending participants behind closed doors, Kayt Cabana can spontaneously serve as a meeting space, video conference room, telephone booth, reading corner or quiet spot for a coffee break. Featuring full multi-media facilities and integral, programmable lighting, Kayt Cabana is ideal for connecting people.

Complementary furniture – Tables

From a choice of a 4-Star base or T-leg, Krossi tables form a basis for productive discussions. Featuring a unique top that allows for easy entry and exit into Kayt Cabana, the Krossi tables are available in a variety of laminates, veneers and powder coats from the ColourLab range.

ColourLab Finishes — Worktops

Designed for contemporary, commercial and living environments, the ColourLab Palette was developed by Giulio Ridolfo. The perception of light was a strong theme that influenced this considered palette of families of colour, encircling the purity of morning light, natural light, watercolours and winter sunset.
